Meet 'Laddie,' A Close Cousin to Shorthorns from the Highlands of Scotland

Bred and developed by Rooftop Landing Reindeer Farm in Clare, Michigan (a farm made famous by numerous appearances on "The Incredible Dr. Pol" TV show), this Scottish Highland sire prospect has the hair, horn and complete lack of responsibility you've been searching for. With a pedigree that combines elite "stuffie" genetics on top and bottom sides, "Laddie" exhibits extreme eye appeal in his conformation, and a disposition so quiet we've never actually seen him move. (By the way, we've never had any bulls from this bloodline try to jump a fence.)

Measuring 22 inches from horn tip to horn tip, he bends the curve with 24 inches of body length, ranking him in the top 1% of his contemporaries, and narrowly edging out a teddy bear and a moderately competitive couch pillow. This Highland bull is an easy keeper who requires no feed, fencing or midnight phone calls to the vet. Fertility is questionable, but we're confident he'll settle in nicely into any recliner.

When it comes to numbers, "Laddie" boasts an impressive spread of EPDs (Extra Plush Diameter) for exceptional look and feel.

Whether you're looking to win the heart of your grandchild this holiday gift-giving season or move the needle on quality in your own "stuffie" collection as seasonal decor, this close cousin from the Scottish Highlands is a standout prospect. Like all good bull sales, he comes with ranch swag — an official Rooftop Landing ball cap! From plushness to cuteness, with a big spread and a soft touch, this Highland herd sire prospect excels in type and kind!

SHORTHORN YOUTH DEVELOPMENT FACTS

Established in 2020, the Shorthorn Youth Development Fund (SYDF) provides financial support for programs and opportunities that develop Shorthorn youth into future leaders, cattle producers and responsible, productive citizens. Through educational experiences, leadership development and lifelong connections, SYDF helps ensure a strong future for the Shorthorn breed.

The future of our breed begins with the next generation, and investing in our youth is one of the most meaningful ways to make a lasting impact. Contributions to SYDF directly support American Junior Shorthorn Association (AJSA) activities, including the National Junior Shorthorn Show & Youth Conference (NJSS), leadership opportunities, educational contests and other youth development programs.

Whether you make a one-time gift or commit to ongoing support, every contribution to the Shorthorn Youth Development Fund supports opportunities that strengthen our youth, our association and the future of the Shorthorn breed.
